Skyline Render View

Two large water bodies and a green football field become the nuclei of three very distinctive, yet complementary pieces of the city.

The Ahli club's ambitious plans to have its own campus on the northern 20 hectares of the site constitute the keystone of this development. The Ahli stadium which is located on the actual existing football playground is the major structure in this area. It is accessed via its own dignified plaza that becomes the heart of this zone. The plaza hosts the club headquarters building and other supporting facilities.

Perspective Section

The second character area is generated by a large water body located at the southern end of the site. By linking this water body to the sea, it becomes the anchor of a touristic area that hosts several hotels, seafront markets, clubs, as well as an aquatic park. Hotels and other facilities in this zone enjoy access to several inland lakes and pools as well as a generous seafront exposure. the third character area is located between the park and the Beach zones. It is also anchored by an existing large water body on the site. this water body is transformed into an expansive urban water surface that articulates offices residential buildings, and a large open-air commercial facility.

SOKHNA VILLA

Private Compound

Architecture / Interior Design
Cairo

تشكل وفرة النوافذ عنصراً أساسياً في تصميم هذا المنزل الشاطئي، لما توفره من دخول غزير للضوء الطبيعي الذي ينعكس على الفراغات الداخلية ويعزز الارتباط البصري بين الداخل والبحر. كما كان اعتماد المخطط المفتوح خياراً جوهرياً يمنح المنزل إحساساً أكبر بالاتساع والانسيابية والانفتاح، مما يخلق بيئة معيشية مريحة ومتناغمة مع الطبيعة المحيطة.

Maximizing windows was a priority for this beach house. Its daylight automatically reflects the interior and creates a relationship between the indoors and the sea. Working with open plan layout was essential to give the house a sense of openness.
